Open Health Check Up Camp and Health Awareness for Tribal Framers and Families & Pig Health Kit Distribution Program Under Tribal Sub Plan

Date: 23rd December, 2024

Venue: ICAR-National Research Centre on Pig

The ICAR-National Research Centre on Pig (NRC), Rani, Guwahati, in collaboration with Marwari Hospital, Guwahati, organized a one-day health check-up camp and health awareness program for tribal farmers and their families on December 23, 2024. The event was conducted under the Tribal Sub-Plan initiative and was organized at the ICAR-NRC on Pig campus, commencing at 10 a.m. The program was inaugurated by Dr. Vivek Kumar Gupta, Director of ICAR-NRC on Pig, Guwahati. A dedicated medical team from Marwari Hospital, comprising Medical Doctors Dr Bidyut Bikash Choudhury and Dr. J.P. Kakati including two nurses and other medical staff members, facilitated the health check-up sessions and provided free medicines to the 150 beneficiaries. About 33 tribal farmers engaged in pig rearing from Umsur village, Assam, participated in the program along with their families. The ICAR-NRC on Pig staff actively participated in health check-ups program. As a part of the program, pig health kits containing six essential veterinary supplies (mineral mixture, vitamin supplements, dewormer, antiseptic ointment, potash, cotton roll) were also distributed to the pig farmers to support the well-being of their livestock. Additionally, the event included refreshment arrangements for the tribal farmers, ensuring a comfortable and engaging experience. This initiative highlighted the commitment of ICAR-NRC on Pig to improve the health and welfare of tribal communities and promoting awareness about livestock management practices.
